

What can you do to help The Feed during COVID-19 and beyond?

As always, our doors are open and The Feeds catering, and support services are continuing to operate. We wanted to address any concerns you may have regarding COVID-19, share our best practices for staying safe and how you can continue to support us.

For the foreseeable future, we will be taking extra precautionary measures in our space. With extra sanitizing, no cash payments, maintaining high levels of hygiene and cleanliness and monitoring the situation accordingly in line with NHS and WHO guidelines.

It is worth keeping in mind that The Feed provides long term solutions to prevent hunger, homelessness and poverty in Norwich. We hope that our supporters will be able to stick with us for the long haul, to help us continue to provide support and food to the most vulnerable in our Fine City.
